

Euan Geddes BSc(Hons), BArch, LLM, FRIAS, RIBA, MCIArb, MAE

Euan was appointed as a Director of APEAS in 2021.

He is a Chartered Architect with more than 25 years experience, having practiced in the UK and Singapore.

He was director of a busy commercial architectural practice for over 17 years where he gained experience in the design and delivery of commissions throughout the UK, as well as contributing to the management of the practice.

Euan is accredited as an expert witness by both the Royal Institute of British Architects (RIBA) and the Royal Incorporation of Architects in Scotland (RIAS). He is now a Principal at HKA, where he provides expert witness services in various forums, including mediation, adjudication, and litigation.

Euan has completed an LLM course in Construction Law and is a Member of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators (MCIArb). He sits on the Contracts Committee of the RIAS, provides practice support to RIAS members through RIAS Practice Services and is an RIAS accredited adjudicator. Euan is the current Chair of the Scottish Building Contracts Committee (SBCC) and is a director of the Joint Contracts Tribunal (JCT).

Prior to becoming a director of APEAS, Euan was a professional examiner for 15 years. He has been a member of ARB's Investigations Panel since 2018.
