

Mahi Jain is graduate of the University of Dundee.

She has worked across India, Singapore, and Zurich, contributing to residential, religious, and educational projects.

Bringing a global perspective to her work, Mahi Jain is passionate about crafting meaningful architecture that blends innovation with heritage.

Since joining McKenzie Strickland Associates in 2022, she has played a pivotal role in managing complex projects and coordinating multidisciplinary teams, always ensuring thoughtful stakeholder engagement and successful project outcomes.

She continues to actively deepen her expertise in building conservation, and construction management — areas that reflect her commitment to both technical rigour and cultural responsibility.

Detail-driven and dedicated to regenerative and conservation architecture, Mahi is committed to delivering sustainable, community-focused solutions that not only meet client needs but also preserve cultural heritage for future generations.

Recognised for her excellence in the APEAS Part 3 exams, Mahi now serves on the board as a newly qualified architect.
